In the article the basic ideas of the concept of justice of Thomas Hobbes are researched. The contractual theory of the state's origin and the concept of justice in the light of relevance in today's world are considered. The author identifies ideas that can be used in the implementation of justice in modern society. The principles of this concept should be further studied in the context of current and future social realities.

In the article the interdisciplinary analysis of nonverbal elements of cultural communication in traditional culture of Adyghs is given. The role of ritual and ceremonial system of mythoeptic worldview in transmission of cultural values is considered. The idea of internal self-sufficiency of traditional models of cultural evolution and their alternativeness to the some writing forms of fixing socio-cultural experience is proved.
